

I developed an app with an AI.
I told it what needed to be fixed below.

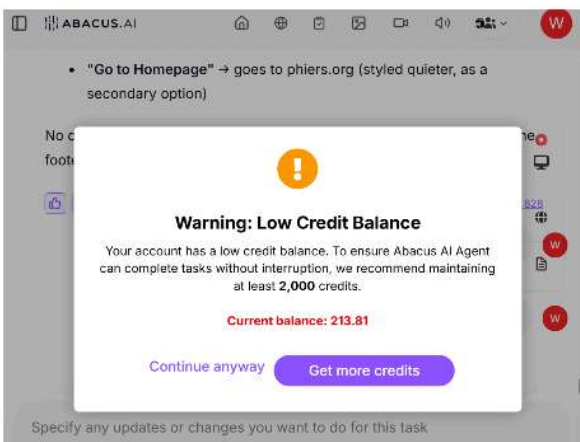

The AI responded

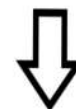

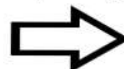

I tested it. There was a bug.

It stopped responding and started chewing up tokens, leaving me stranded.

It stopped responding

It ate my tokens

Now, I'm dead in the water... although I am owed a LOT of money.

My bank account is overdrawn cuz I needed gas weeks ago... so I am trying to raise $100 to cover the cost of gas now, and two AI services essential to the work I do.

Once I have the money I will be able to go to the Sheriff's office to get Nicole serves AND fix the app so we can collect signatures.

If you know anyone who can help, can you share my donate button with them?
